New York, Nov. 6.—Seth Low, former president of Columbia University and four years ago the Citizens Union candidate for the first Mayor of Greater New York, was elected the second Mayor of Greater New York by a plurality ranging anywhere from 30,000 to 40,000, deteating Edward M. Shepard, of Brooklyn, the Democratic nominee. The campaign was an exciting one and the vote, though somewhat less than the Presidential election a year ago, was the largest ever polled in a municipal contest in this

Justice Jerome Elected.

In addition to the canvass for Mayor, public interest largely centered in the nomination by the fusionists of William Travers Jerome for District Attorney and Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck, by the Democrats for Justice of the Supreme Court, were voted for only in the territory contained in New York county. Returns received up to 11 p. m. last night indicated that Jerome had been elected by a comfortable plurality, and that Mayor Van Wyck had been defeated, the latter running behind his ticket from 15,000

Returns also indicated the complete triumph of the Greater New York fusion ticket, Charles Vincent Fornes, the nominee of the Citizens Union. and the Republicans for President of the board of Aldermen, defeating George M. Van Hoesen, the Democratic nominee. E. M. Grout, for the past four years Democratic President of the borough of Brooklyn, now the fusionist nominee for Comparoller, has also defeated W. W. In the the Brony, additional and possibly official returns will be required to de termine the results for borough presi dent and other local officers.

Legislature About the Same.

Reports received from the various sections of New York state show that the Republicans will retain control of the lower house of the state legislature, the number of Republican and Democratic assemblymen, not differ ing materially from the figures of pre ceding years. In the various municipal contests reported from up the state the most interesting elections noted were those of Albany, Troy, Rochester, Syracuse and Buffalo. The city of Albany was carried by the Republicans, ex-Senator David B. Black, was easily elected. In Buffalo, the entire Republican city and county were elected, Erastus J. Knight, the state comptroller, being chosen mayor. The result in Rochester was close, but Mayor Warner's friends claim his election over the Republican candidate. Those who labored so long and so patiently to bring about the successful fusion of many elements and those who have supported the fusion so loyally are all entitled to the greatest credit. For myself I ask for the generous and constant support of the community in the great task to which it bas summoned me.' Mr. Low was in receipt of hundreds of telegrams from prominent men, not only in the city, but also from different parts of the state and country, among them being congratulations from President Roosevelt and Senator Foraker, of Ohio.

Croker Conceded Low's Election.

Richard Croker, at 8:45 o'clock last night conceded the election of Seth Low, fusion candidate for mayor, but Mr. Croker was not willing at that time to give up the county ticket.

The first legislative district of Baltimore city, with 69 precincts missing, gives the leading Republican candidate 3,822 votes, while the leading Democratic candidate has 3,804. The others range from 3,604 to 3,799, and the delegation is about evenly divided between the two parties, as indicated by the returns now in. The second district is probably Democratic, while the third is almost surely Republican. The figures from the counties come in very slowly. Mont-gomery is probably Democratic and it is claimed that the Democrats have elected their senatorial candidate in Alleghany.

FUTURE OF CANADA.

SOME INTERESTING STATISTICS BY JOHN CHARLTON, M P

Declares the Northwest Region Can Support Population of Fifty Mil-Rous-Wheat Area of Two Hundred and Fifts Million Acres.

The recent visit of the Duke and Duchess of York to Canada has served to draw attention to that vast, territory to the north of us and has given emineut Canadians an opportunity of booming their country, especially as regards the great northwest. There seems to be no doubt that there are vast possibilities in the wide stretch of land west of Hudson bay, east of the Rocky mountains and north of the boundary line, consisting of the province of Maintolia and the territories of Keewatin, Assmaboia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Athabasca, Mackenzie, Yukon and Franklin and contaming over 2000,000 square miles. The greater part of this has never been developed, and much of it is unexplored.

Among the Canadians who by voice and pen are striving to impress the fact that their country has a great future is Mr. John Charlton, the eminent parliamentarian. Mr. Charlton has been for years making a study of his country and its resources, and what he says should have weight. He has equipped himself with an array of figures that are, to say the least, startling in the possibilities they unfold.

It appears that in the region north of the Saskatchewan watershed, west of Hudson bay and east of the Rocky mountains there are 300,000 square miles of land adapted to the growth of wheat, 407,000 square miles, including the wheat area, adapted to the growth of barley and oats, 656,000 square miles, including the wheat and barley area, adapted to the growth of potatoes and turnips and 860,000 square miles of good pasture land. This region also contains great stretches of prairie land and extensive forests of spruce, poplar, balm of Gilead and bamskian pine.

To the south lie the province of Manitoba, the territory of Assinaboia, over one-half the territory of Alberta and two-filths of the territory of Saskatchewan, with a total area roughly estimated of 270,000 square nules. This region is in the wheat growing belt and gives, with the areas suitable for the cultivation of cereals north of the Saskatchewan watershed, a total in the Canadian northwest of 570,000 square indes adapted to the growth of wheat and of 780,000 square miles adapted to the growth of barley and eats. Stated in acres this would give a wheat acreage of 360,000 000 acres. It is said that 250,000,000 acres of wheat lands in this region is a conservative estimate.

Turning to Mr. Charlton's statistics. it appears that this equals 1,563,000 farms of 160 acres each. Continuing, Mr. Charlten says: "The present year's wheat surplus of 30,000,000 to 40,000,-000 bushels for export can easily be increased twentyfold after supplying domestic wants. But a little more than 2.000.000 acres were in crop this year. This region can support a population of 50,000,000."

A glance at the personality of the man who is striving so earnestly to imbue others with his enthusiasm for Canada's future is instructive. He is a man to be observed. Short and slight of stature, it is the shaggy head and virile countenance which compel attention. The restless dark eyes, the trick iron gray hair and beard and the nervous mouth betoken energy and an obstinate resolution. His character bears out his visage.

Although of an old English family. Mr. Charlton was born, as was his mother, in the state of New York While a youth his father moved to Canada, taking up his residence on a farm near Ayr, Ont. When twentyfour years old, Mr. Charlton went into business for himself, engaging in the lumber trade and succeeding so well that he is now known as a "lumber king" of Ontario. His first political battle was a hard one, but he won it and took his seat in the green furnished lower house at Ottawa. He has been a member of parliament ever since 1872. Only his independent course in politics. prevented his being colled into the cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier

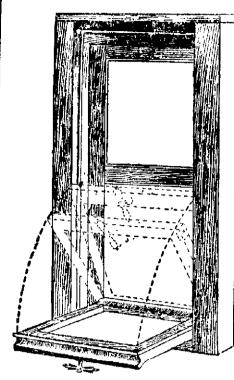

Mr. Charlton is very well known on this side of the border. He was the only private member of parliament among the Canadian commissioners of the international conference that metin 1808 to settle disputes between the United States and Canada. He is a warm advocate of reciprocity.

NEW WINDOW SASH.

Should Prove a Boon For the Order Loving Housewice.

The windows with which most of us are familiar have often enor 'n been condemned for the reason the cleaning of the outer surface of the glass is attended with not a little danger. A recently patented invention which has been acquired by Mr. Arthur Hoyt Bogue of New York seeks to overcome this difficulty in a manner which is both ingenious and simple, says The Scientific American.

The sashes in Mr. Bogue's window run in vertical grooves in the window casing and are provided with the usual pulleys and weights. Each groove of the lower sash, however, has a curved branch groove leading to the groove of the upper sash. Horizontal grooves bisect the two vertical grooves, and by these horizontal grooves pins projecting from the lower sash are guided.

By reason of this arrangement of grooves the lower sash can be moved in the branch groove directly in alignment with the upper sash, thereby closing the window far more tightly than is possible with the ordinary sashes. But if the lower sash be moved down to the end of its vertical groove a horizontal space is left between the upper and lower sashes for ventilating purposes. If this space be not large enough, the sashes can be raised and lowered in the usual manner.

In the lower end of each groove of the upper sash a pin is located, which is received in the curved recess of a plate carried on the lower end of the lower sash. Thus the lower sash, when depressed, is prvotally mounted, so that it can be swung mwardly in the manner shown in our engraving through an arc of ninety degrees. When the sash is thus swung inwardly, the window can be safely cleaned.

Lutest Scheme For Fire Fighting. The head of the fire department of Rouen has suggested to the mayor a novel project in the fire extinguishing $1,460, and we doubt if there is any one service. Inasmuch as this city is traversed everywhere by electric street car wires, it is suggested there should be: provided pumps, driven by dynamos, to take currents by means of a trolley hooked to the street car wires at the nearest point to the fire. If this is favorably acted upon, as seems likely, Rouen will be equal, if not superior, to any European city in the efficiency of its fire service.

Novel Use For Wine.

Viticulturists in France have just tried experiments in feeding draft aninals with bran mixed with wine, which seem to be successful. It appears that poor wine can be used to re place outs as food, weight for weighta pound of wine for a pound of oats. At least half of the usual feed of grain can be replaced in this manner without disadvantage to the animals Barley, beans, bran and the like, mixed with wine, can be substituted for oats entirely if desired, it is said.

Perpetual Youth.

Professor Gautier, a distinguished member of the Institut de France, has advanced a startling theory on the subject of "perpetual youth." In isolating the bacteria of physical fatigue he has found that it is a poison strongly resembling ptomaine poison in nature. From this Professor Gautier concludes that fatigue can, by the use of disinfectants, be avoided like any other poison, and consequently man, no longer suffering from wear and tear. need not weaken or age.

Consul General Guenther of Frankfort reports that official tests of so called fireproof stairs for apartment houses were made recently at the yards of one of the. fire department stations in Frankfor, where intense fires had been started for variety as to material and strength, but they were still serviceable after five or ten minutes under fire.

NEW EPISCOPAL PRELATE.

Dr. Cameron Mann. Missionary Bish op of North Dakota.

The action of the Protestant Episco pal general convention in electing the Rev Dr. Cameron Mann of Kansas City to be missionary bishop of North Dakota is expected to be productive of splendid results to the Episcopal church in his new field. Although he was borr in the east, Bishop Mann is distinct tively a westerner, with a strong per sonality and the reputation of being an effective church worker. It is small wonder, therefore, that the deputies who elected him are enthusiastic over the prospects in North Dakota.

New York city was the bishop elect's birthplace. He received his education at Hobart college and early decided to enter the ministry. After a thorough theological course he was ordained deacon and was later advanced to the priesthood by the late Bishop Coxe of Buffalo.

His first charge was in Albany, where he officiated as a curate. He later became rector of St. James' church, Watkins, N. Y., remaining in that pastorate for seven years. At the end of that period he went to Kausas City to take charge of Grace church, a parish boasting the largest membership in that city.

Dr. Mann has a brother who is also in religious orders, being rector of Grace church, Orange, N. J. Apart from his regular elerical duties the writing and has published a number of theological works.

COLUMBIA'S NEW HEAD.

Dr. Nicholas Butler, Who Has Assumed President Low's Duties,

Just as in the world of business young men are now finding themselves called upon to assume very responsible positions, so in the realm of pedagogy young men are in great demand. It seems to be the fashion to have youthful college presidents. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who as acting president has succeeded Seth Low as head of Columbia university, is a young man as college presidents go, being but thirty-eight years old. At this age, however, he can lay claim to a varied and interesting career.

Dr. Butler is certainly the foremost man of his years in the educational circles of this country. He is not only a thinker, but a doer, and has a remarkable faculty for organization. His methods are practical. From the very beginning of his work he has stood reso lutely for putting education on a scientific basis. The Teachers' college, now affiliated with Columbia university, illustrates his idea of the way in which education ought to be treated. The or ganization of the college examination board has also been largely due to his efforts.

For some years he has been acting as professor and dean in the department of philosophy at Columbia. Like his predecessor, he is a son of Columbia and familiar with the traditions of the university. Apart from his philosophical work he has been first president of the Teachers' college, has served for eight years on the New Jersey state board of education, has presided over the affairs of the National Educational association and has been special com-missioner from the Indian Territory to JAMES R. BEET SUGAR AND THE TRUST.

It has been clearly foreseen for some time that when the time arrived that the product of the beet sugar factories of this country reached a sufficiently large amount, so that it would seek a market outside that offered by the sugar trust, there would be trouble in the sugar camp. That time has now arrived, and the trust is after the home producers of sugar. The general publie has a very lively interest in the prebable controversy.

PALESTINE GRAPES.

As a boy we remember seeing a picture depicting the spies returning from the land of Canaan bearing on a pole, which two men carried on their shoulders, bunches of grapes from the promised land. The artist had made these bunches of grapes almost touch the ground, and we got the idea that they must have come from a great grape country. We see that large numbers of German vine growers are locating in Palestine to take up the culture of i the grape, the quality of which as there grown is equal to the best product of a either France or Germany.

WIRE GRASS AND WEALTH.

The largest manufacturing industry in the state of Minnesota is engaged in the conversion of the common wire grass of the Minnesota sloughs into the various manufactured products for which it seems so well fitted-binding twine, cordage, matting, basket work, bagging, etc. More than 10,000 persons are being supported and doing well as a result of the development of this industry. And we well recall the time when the wire grass slough was considered the most worthless of any of Minnesota's broad acres and the owner of it an object of pity.

THE FAMILY PIG.

If one wants some choice pork for the family to eat, the pig should not know very much about corn at any period of his career and most certainly should not be allowed to follow a bunch of fatting steers. The family pig, while to decent rations of food and should be the product of skimmilk, barley meal and roots, with a chance to run in a wood tot and pick up some acorns and nuts, to be finished off with a little corn at the last end. Such pork will report this year of a good crop of the be the typical streak of fat and streak following varieties of apples: Wealthy, of lean, tender, firm in texture and of the finest flavor.

POVERTY AND PIETY,

A western preacher whose salary has probably not been raised to make good to him the increased cost of living in these prosperous times in a recent sermon delivered by him expresses the opinion that continuous prosperity is not a good thing for the man on the farm; that money easily made is tikely to be foolishly spent, and that such a not agree with this preacher, who reflects a little of a sixteenth century piety which advocated the crucifixion of the flesh as the most orthodox method of life are just as much the legitimate rewards of correct living and business The good things are placed within the reach of every man if he will but make the proper effort to win them. Piety is not the legitimate outcome of poverty, for but few people are so built that they voluntarily praise God when they are hungry, poor and miserable. The men and women on the farm who today enjoy a financial independence have reached this point only after many long, hard years of toil and struggle. It will not wreck their future happiness to enjoy good crops and good prices and freedom from debt. It is hard to be a good Christian with only one shirt and an empty pocketbook. Psaims and not from Jeremiah.

PROTECTING ORCHARD TREES. We have a friend who is growing a commercial apple orchard of 3,000 trees in northern lowa. His method of protecting his trees from sun seald, rabbits and borers is this: He takes tough marsh hay, and from it twists a hay rope an inch and a half in diameter, and, commencing at the bottom of the trunk of the tree, winds it snugly around the tree, fastening the upper end among the branches in the crotch. He tells us that he finds this method a perfect protection against the three worst enemies of the apple tree named. He leaves this rope on winter and summer until it rots off, which will be in about three years. Using this method, one thing must be guarded against, and that is the keeping of the base of the trunk free from grass and weeds, or the field mice will nest there and bark the trunk of the tree.

OUR LANGUAGE A FAILURE.

The English language, expressive as it is, is wholly incompetent to fitly present the feelings of the good woman who has had her canned fruit all carried off by some thief from the cellar or who comes down some cold morning in winter to find that her husband left the parlor door open when he came in and that all her pice house plants are destroyed. We might add one more, and that when she finds her new $20 dress, supposed by her to be the only woman across the street, the neighbor with whom she is not on speaking terms. Upon such occasions woman nceds a bad man who can speak three languages to express her sentiments.

A BUSINESS ANIMAL.

We watched an Angora goat feeding the other day. It had been turned into a garden from which all the garden stuff had been removed. There were a bed of second growth lettuce, tender and sweet, a lot of fresh cabbage stumps and leaves, plenty of fine blue ground, and when we left it it was busy stripping all the foliage which it could reach from a low headed box elder. The Angora goat is a business animal and no mistake.

WORTH ONE DOLLAR A LOAD. If a two horse load of stable manure is worth $1 in the state of New York, what is it worth in Wisconsin, Minnesota or Iowa? Now, please do not think we are crazy when we say that, with corn at 50 cents a bushel, it is worth just as much, for every load of fertilizer put on the average cornfields of those states will increase the yield not less than three bushels, and, more, will do it for two or three years. Therefore do not move the barn to get it away from the manure pile.

WHAT SHOULD BE DOXE?

We are asked what should be done In a case like this: A dog of fairly good reputation belonging to a farmer was very strongly suspected on circumstantist evidence of killing a lot of sheep belonging to a neighbor. The owner of the dog refused to recognize the weight of this sort of evidence, and would neither pay for the sheep nor kill the dog. What should the sheep owner do? Our reply is that he should get that dog's hide on the first favorable opportunity.

TO DISTRIBUTE FERTILIZER.

New Device the Invention of a Louisinna Man,

A fertilizer distributer which can be fitted to an ordinary wagon and which ls of such construction that it can deliver material within a wide range is the subject of an invention patented by Harris McVea of Vanceville, La.

The frame of the distributer consists of a backboard and a downwardly and inwardly inclined front section. When the device is to be used, the tailboard of the wagon is taken out and the backboard of the distributer substi-

This feed wheel shaft is driven from one of the rear supporting wheels of the wagon by a sprocket and chain gear, a lever operated clutch mechanism being provided to throw the feed wheel shaft into and out of gear with the supporting wheel of the wayon. Slides are provided for closing the discharge openings of the hoppers.

The fertilizer, fed by the wheels, passes through two spouts to the ground. The spouts are pivotally mounted and are swung to or from the ground by means of two links pivoted to the spouts and operated by a vertical bandie bar provided with means whereby it can be held in any adjusted position. By thus pivotally mounting the spouts and adjusting them for any widtl; between rows the fertilizer can be delivered within a wide range.

ouilding is in use in Austria. Green wood is placed in a large wooden trough whose bottom is covered with a lead plate. This is connected with the wood is a second lead plate, which forms the negative pole.

The wood is then subjected to a bath in a solution composed of 10 per cent resin and 75 per cent soda. Under the influence of the electric current the sap is drawn out of the word and rises to the surface, the solution being absorbed by the wood.

The operation requires from five to eight hours. The treated wood is allowed to dry for about two weeks, when it is ready for use.

A New German Veneer.

Through Consul Hughes of Coburg grass and other nice pickings all there is reported a new veneor which around. What did that goat do but a Dresden firm has just placed on the made straight for a clump of wild market. It is made of very thin wood rosebushes in a corner of the garden backed with a thick, impregnated paper and strip them almost down to the and is known as "Kolumbusholy." It comes in rolls 66.6 feet long and about 4.92 feet wide. When dry, it is very strong and hard and is nailed on wooden strips on the walls of dwellings and offices, where it has the appearance of handsomely finished wainscoting. It is also used mounted on very heavy paper and pressed into different shapes as molding for doors and windows. The prices for it range from 30 to 50 per cent lower than those of all wood articles in use at present for the same purposes.

Bacteria In Modeling Clay.

M. O. Leighton, health inspector of Montclair, N. J., declares that he has found bacteria to be quite abundant in clay that has been used and reused for modeling in schools. An attempt to sterifize the clay showed that the only efficient way of accomplishing this was by the use of superheated steam under a pressure of fifteen to twenty pounds for forty-five minutes. The species of bacteria identified were those which occur in pus formations.

Nature of the X Rays.

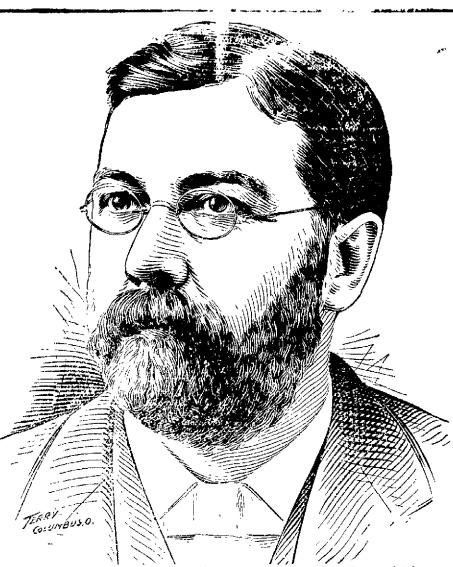

The researches of M. Jules Semenow on the nature of the X rays indicate that these rays represent the direction of the transmission, through the intermediation of the ether, of electric vibrations. The vibrations are communicated to all bodies met along their path. When the bodies are charged with electricity and protected against discharge by convection, they lose their enarges by radiation.

Funds for the McKinley Memorial Association - Attorney Hawk Released from the County Jail.

Canton, Nov. 5.—Both Judges Amer and McCarty adjourned common pleas court over Tuesday, election day, and in consequence there are no cases on trial today.

The city council held a short meeting Monday night. The principal business that came up was, as usual, the consideration of the financial condition of the city. The police department, fire department and street and alley department employes have all received their last pay, the present funds now being overdrawn. A resolution was introduced providing that the city clerk issue certificates of indebtedness to these employes until there is money in fund. It was laid over for one week. In the meantime the general public is anxiously awaiting the result of the injunction proceedings restraining the council from borrowing $65,000.

Attorney Jacob J. Hawk once more enjoys his liberty. Attorney Hawk has succeeded in straightening out his financial difficulties and is once more looking for clients.

Sheriff Zaser has received word from Warren that "Chickens" Moore has so far recovered as to be able to be removed. The sheriff will go after Moore the latter part of the week. Moore was indicted for burglary and larceny but succeeded in escaping with the other prisoners from jail some weeks ago. Later he was caught in a chicken raid and lost an arm, which was shot full of buckshot by a farmer who caught him at a coop.

NAVARRE LINE OPEN.

Sixty People Take the First Trip Saturday Night.

Cars on the Navarre extension of the Canton-Massillon electric railroad were run for the first time Saturday evening. The first car left this city at 6:40 in charge of Conductor Girt and Motorman Stahl. The run, intwo minutes. The cars were run until 11:30 Saturday evening and all day Sunday. Sixty people took the first trip and during the evening about 250 fares were sold. The traffic Sunday was heavy, the car at every trip being loaded to its fullest capacity. Cars will be run this week during the evening beginning at 6:30. The last car will leave Navarre at 11 o'clock.

The track and trolley in Navarre is not yet completed and the cars now run only to the top of the Navarre hill. Superintendent O'Toole said today that he expects to have the line completed by the first of next week and Motorman Stahl the evening run. as usual." The fare for the round trip is fifteen cents. The run this week is made for the benefit of the ladies of St. Memorial to Be Erected at Clement's church who are holding a fair at the rink in Navarre.

When the line is in regular working order the car will leave the square in this city on the half hours and the Navarre square on the even hours.

The funeral of the late Andrew Wetzel, who died in the hospital at Lorain Sunday morning of injuries received at Chamberlain a few hours previous, was held at St. Joseph's church Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The services where conducted by the Rev J. F. Kuebler. The deceased was a member of the A. R. Cavans lodge, No. 356, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of Lorain. The following members of that lodge acted as pall bearers: J. C. Crouch, J. S. Eberly, J. F. Gram, B. J. Hoffman, G. W. Ristine and C. Breen. The Royal Arcanum lodge, No. 1105, of Lorain, of which lodge Mr. Wetzel was also a member, was represented by Charles A. Barrister, of Lorain. Superior lodge, No. 144, Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Engineers, was represented by Mrs. J. F. Gram, Mrs. C. W. Stout, Mrs. H. Miss W. Wolen, all of Lorain. Among the floral pieces was a design of roses and ferus representing the gates ajar, presented by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; a heart of roses from the Ladies Auxiliary, and a design of roses by the Royal Arcanum.

Mr. Wetzel was employed as an engineer on the C., L. & W. railroad. He was in charge of the yard engine at Chamberlain and was shifting cars in the yards. He left his engine and went to the telegraph office for orders. On returning it was necessary to cross the main track, down which a freight community, only to be regretted in train was backing. He would have had plenty of time to cross over but ment has come to prevail. We have he slipped and fell and before he could recover himself the train was upon him. One leg was cut off and he was cut and bruised about the body. He was taken to the hospital at Lorain where he died in the operating chair four hours after the accident. He carried $1,500 life insurance in the order of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

"Several thousand shooting stations have been established in Italy and France during the past two years, but reports received from them give no definite data in support of the success of the experiments, although there is no doubt that the cannonading is believed to be effectual by the farmers who do the work. Waves of irrational enthusiasm sometimes creep over a subsequent years, when calmer judgonly to remember the experience of our own country only a few years ago with the rainmakers, and how firm was the belief of thousands of people in the sub arid and arid regions of the West that the use of powerful explosives would produce rainfall. Thousands of dollars were expended in these experiments before the absurdity of the claim was demonstrat-

"It is a fact worthy of remark that the hail shooters are now using practically the same methods to dissipitate the clouds that the rainmakers used to produce them. . Time and experiment probably will demonstrate that hail prevention by such means is as impracticable as rain production. There is no way of telling by the sight of an approaching cloud whether or not it is accompanied by hail. Therefore, if the cannon be used every thunderstorm would have to be bombarded, although statistics have demonstrated that only one thunder cloud out of a great number contains hail. In other words, there would be a tremendous waste of time, money and energy in unnecessary bombard-

"After examining all that has been published during the past two years on the subject of hail prevention, I have to repeat the opinion heretofore expressed, that we have here to do with a popular delusion and that efforts should be made to prevent its spread to this country. The great processes going on in the atmosphere are conducted on too large a scale for any man or any nation to attempt to control them. The energy expended by nature in the production of a hailstorm, a tornado or a cainstorm probably exceeds the comfined energy of all the steam engines and explosives in the world. A PRISONER RESCUED.

He Was Being Returned from Canton to Penitentiary.

Columbus, Nov. 4.-Two men untowns of the state during the past six our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve and cracksman, C. A. Taylor, alias Charles Lowery, alias Bull Lowery, from a guard who was returning him to the penitentiary on a Cleveland, Akron & Columbus passenger train Saturday afternoon. It is by all odds the most sensational achievement of the kind in the criminal annals of the state. Lowery was in charge of George M. Bowman, one of the oldest and most trusted guards at the penitentiary. He had taken the prisoner to Canton on Wednesday to testify in a case in which Mike Moran, presumed to be another of the gang. was accused of robbery, and was bringing him back to prison.

As the train slowed up at Westerville, a little town about eight miles north of Columbus, two men swung themselves aboard and seated themselves near Lowery and the officer Suddenly one of them arose and hurled a handful of cayenne pepper into the guard's eyes, while the other turned toward the passengers, with a revolver in each hand, and ordered them not to interfere. The guard, blinded by the burning pepper, attempted to rise, and as he did so reached for his gun.

"Here, stop that it won't do you any good," said the man who stood over him and he was roughly pushed back into his seat, with the cold muzzle of a pistol against his temple. Lowery grasped him with his manacted hands, and assisted his pals to control him, and when he tried to free himself he was again admonished to remain quiet, this time accompanied by the threatening click of the hammer of the desperado's pistol. Meanwhile the man, who kept the passengers covered, pulled the bell rope and as the train slackened speed at Chase avenue, on the outskirts of the city, the trio jumped off and fled across the fields. The guard groped his way to the platform of the coach and fired several shots at the fugitives, but his eyes were practically useless and he abandoned the chase and hurried to report to the penitentiary officials. Lowery and his pale fled eastward, and at Joeve avenue encountered Edward Horner, a merchant of Chillicothe, and his wife, who were on their way in a phaeton. Lowery's pals covered them with revolvers and ordered them to vacate the vehicle. They refused and were seized and thrown violently into the road. The fugitives stopped long enough to rob Mr. Horner of $25, then jumped into the phaeton and continued their flight, driving the horse at breakneck speed. That is the last that has been seen of them. The local police force and the guards at the penitentiary are scouring the country and a desperate fight is expected if they are sighted. Lowery is one of the most noted cracksmen in the country. He was sent to the prison last April to serve a long term for being implicated in the robbery of a bank at Chardon, Geauga county. He was formerly a pal of the notorious "Blinky" Morgan, who held up a train at Ravenna several years ago in an attempt to rescue one of the Morgan gang, who was being taken to the penitentiary in charge of Detective Hulligan, of Cleveland. The officer was killed in the fight and Morgan was executed for the

Notable Golfers F OF F Washington §

Some of the most prominent men in the official life of our national exputat are enthusiastic golf players. The game seems to have been adopted as the official recreation by the mer at the head of affairs in Washington

In the vicinity of the city are flour ishing country clubs where golf is the leading pastime. Probably the most notable of these is the Cherr Chase club. The club has made its home in the historic Chevy Chase mansion since

Even the trolley ride is a delight, and when the crimson mag of the club is seen flaunting its three big black C's above the once sedate old country house one can understand the feeling of affection its members have for their club and all things pertaining to it.

It is no new thong for the quaint and unpretentions Chevy Chase mansion to be the resort of the best known people of the land. It has all its long life, since the days of George III, been accustomed to receive within its doors the best of good society, and if its walls could only speak Ustening would be well worth while. When the British applied the torch to Washington, it was to this old farmhouse that the records of several of the crippled departments were nastily removed, and many prominent otherals, together with some of the members of President Madison's cal part, made it their home for several weeks. Just what form the amusements of those pregolfing days assumed we are not told, but the horse must of necessity have played no unimportant part because of the location of this charming place several miles from the city. There are, in fact, occasional refermees in history which prove this to have been the case,

London's Severest Winter.

The great snowstorm, when the Thames was frozen over for nearly four months, occurred in 1683-84. The first continued without intermission from December to Pebruary, snow coming down almost continuously, so that some parts of the country were well night imprisable. To add to the discomfort a bifter east wind blew all the time. Ships anxious to enter the port of London were obliged to remain at the mouth of the Tharnes, and the erews subject great privations. Provisions were dear, horses and cattle often died of cold and searcely a bird lived through the winter.

The citizens of London, however, resolving on having some profit out of the extraordinary weather, built a regular colony on the icebound Thames. Shops, taverus, coffee houses, booths for dramatic representations, printing offices and similar buildings sprang up like magic. The winter was probably the severest ever known in England, though the following one of 1684-85 was famous for its extreme cold.-London Tit-Bits.

Frank Gould is the youngest of the family, being under twenty-four, and is not so well known as are his brothers and sisters. Like his brothers, he is a man of business, a director in the Missouri Pacific rallway and other companies. Since his father's death he has made his home at his sister Helen's residence, Lyndhurst. There he has a rare collection of horses and dogs, among both of which are many blue ribbon winners. His kennel of St. Bernard does is especially fine.

Miss Koth, who is scarcely more than seventeen years old, was to have been formally introduced in society this winter, but the idea was abandoned owing to the sudden death of her father, which occurred in July at his summer home near New Rochelle, N. Y,, while he was making preparations to entertain Admiral Schley. Miss Kelly had been informally presented, however, at the family's country home, so may be said to be not unknown in New York society, where her beauty and vivacity have attracted attention. She was educated at a convent, is very studious and is disclared to be a connoisseur in matters of art and literature. It is expected that the wedding will be celebrated in January.

to another man's needs often works great advantage to both. Such a circumstance effected the beginning of the success of Judge Fred Wellhouse, so long known as the "apple king of Kansas," who has just finished picking apples from his 1,240 acres of orchard land.

While Kansas has not got this year what is to used a full apple crop, it has got more than an average one, and Mr. Welihouse's orchards are ahead of the average orchards. He has picked in the neighborhood of 60,000 bushels of apples, representing almost $25,000 profit on his investments for the year. His banner season was in 1890, when the erop amounted to 80000 bushels, the year's expenses being $13,000 and the gross recepts for apples $52,000.

Up to 1875 Mr. Wellhouse was practically a poor man. He didn't own big farms then. In fact, he was generally found at work on the farms of other people. While thus engaged be was, however, continually studying the culture of truit trees. He had an idea that the apple had a tuture in Kansas and was experimenting from time to time to prove his theories. L. B. Wheat, a Leavenworth atterney, heard of Mr. Wellhouse and his experiments and, owning a lot of rough land in Leaven worth and Miami counties, thought he would give the pomolog st an opportunity to continue his investigations on a larger scale.

Race Family Brutally Abused and Robbed.

EARLY ON SATURDAY EVENING.

The Family, Whose Home is Northwest of the City, Had Burglars Forced an Entrance and Some Certificates of Deposit—Kerosene Poured Over Them and Roast Them Alive Made.

Six masked robbers visited the farm house of Balser Race, four miles northeast of Massillon, between 8 and 9 o'clock Saturday night. The Race family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Race, and two sons, Andrew Race and Balser Race, jr., both of whom have reached maturity. The family were seated about a table discussing plans for threshing on Monday. Race was mending some wheat sacks.

The robbers used a fence rail to met the burglars at the door, and atmembers of the family gave in without a struggle, and all were gagged and bound hand and foot, Race's serve as bonds.

MAYOR WISE MAKES A SPEECH.

He Tells the Fellow-Citizens Who Surround His Home that He Owes His Election to Them, and that He will Try to do His Duty-Escorted Down Town and to His Mother's Home.

When the incontrovertible figures came to support the foregone conclusion that Wise would be elected, somewhat before 11 o'clock Tuesday night, the crowd of waiters and watchers at the mayor's court room, surged into the streets, and augmented by scores, of other waiters, proceded to the residence of Mayor Wise, in East Tremont street. Great quantities of boxes and other things that burn were piled high in front of the house, and soon there was roaring a bonfire that lighted the entire neighborhood.

"Hurrab for Wise!" "Hurrah for the new clerk of courts!" and other similar cries filled the air. The mayor appeared upon his front porch and thus addressed the crowd: "I thank you, boys, for this little evidence of your feeling toward me. I have worked hard during this campaign. but my election is not due altogether to my own efforts. It's what you boys did for me that has brought things my way. I shall do my daty as I see it in my new office. I want you to have all the fun you can, boys, and I know when I say this that you won't abuse any of these privileges."

While the fire was at its brightest a drum corps appeared, the mayor was escorted to its head and the march to the home of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Wise, in Henry street, was taken up. There more cheering was indulged in, and the mayor made another brief speech.

THERE ARE MANY ROADS

The Finger Posts Marking the Many By-Paths of Present Day Troubles All Seem to Point the Same -Lack of Nerve Force.

Day-by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from Massillon people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—why they accomplish so much is easily explained—they are prepared with an eye single to restoring Nerve Force—they accomplish this object which no other median cine in the world has ever been able to do-that's why bundreds of Massillon people offer their testimony,

Mrs. E. F. Diehm, of 73 Akron street, date a Winner.

Oberlin Also Runs Far Ahead of His Ticket-Smith Treated Nicely by His Home City-Returns Received at Mayor's Court Room.

The success of the entire Republican ticket is assured. The county majority is somewhat over 1,800.

The vote in Massillon proved very much heavier than was expected early in the day, the total vote being well upon 3,200. The Republican plurality of 539 in the city and township is a slight gain over last year's vote, Me-Kinley having received a plurality of 502. The total vote last year was somewhat over 3,500.

Returns from county precincts were received at the mayor's court room. where a large crowd gathered to hear them read.

Owing to the fact that it was impossible to secure the vote on the bond issue question in many of the precincts, it is not known positively what is the result in that connection. Many people refused to vote on the proposition.

Wise, in the city and township, received his expected large majority of 1,100 or so, and Oberlin was close behind him with over 700 majority. Smith ran ahead of his ticket by about 400. Metzger, in spite of the opposition resulting from his connection with the Clark local option bill two years ago, ran well in all precincts.
